Self Portrait, 2005

IT IS WITH GREAT SADNESS that we report the death of Carl Plansky on October 10. Carl was an alumnus of the New York Studio School where he taught and where an exhibition of his work, Sacred Monsters: Carl Plansky's Divas, remains on view through October 18.

Carl was a deeply beloved figure with an infectious love for life, art and opera. He was a painter of marked lyricism and passionate sensuality. Thanks to the legendary paints he manufactured at Williamsburg Artist Materials, the company he founded, many fellow-practitioners remain in his debt.

The School extends its deepest sympathies to Carl's family, and to his countless friends, students, former workmates, and admirers. In lieu of flowers, Carl's family request that people make contributions towards a scholarship in his name. To make a donation, please contact the Development Office at 212-673-6466 or development@nyss.org.
